Air Purifiers

CLEANAIRSPACES

Ongoing research is revealing that exposure to poor air quality is more harmful to health than has been previously reported. Shanghai's building and homes are not well protected against particulate matter and a high quality air purifier at the office and home is strongly recommended.

Clean Air Spaces has developed a high volume, high efficiency air purifier that reduces and eliminates airborne particulate matter, (PM0.3, PM2.5 and PM10) and Volatile Organic Compounds (VOC), as well as mold and smells.

Specially designed to be ultra quiet with a low foot print while covering 50-70 square meters of office or home space.
