

Wei He

Chief Reporter, China Daily

As Shanghai-based chief reporter at China Daily, Ms. Wei HE primarily covers China's disruptive tech firms including Alibaba, Tencent, Huawei, Microsoft, and Google etc. She frequently leads a team of reporters to extensively report on major economic/political events, such as the Davos Forum, the BRICS summit, the Belt and Road International Cooperation Forum, Boao Asia Forum, the National Two Sessions, etc.

Her 1-1 interview portfolio includes global/China CEOs of Walt Disney, Lufthansa, McDonald's, McKinsey & Co, Roland Berger, Airbnb, etc. She received China News Awards in 2014, the most recognized journalism award in the country.

Ms. HE holds a bachelor and a master's degree on international relations from Fudan University in China and a master's degree on media and communications at the London School of Economics.